FLINT, Charles Ranlett:

International merchant and industrial organizer; b. Thomaston, Me., Jan. 24, 1850; s. Benjamin and Sarah (Tobey) Flint; descendant of Thomas Flint, who came to America from Wales in 1642 and settled in Salem, Mass.; ed in public schs., Thomaston, Me., and B'klyn, N. Y; grad. Polytechnic Inst., B'klyn, 1868, as pres. of his class, and was afterward pres. of the Alumni. Entered employ of W. R. Grace in 1869; in 1871 organized firm of Gilchrist, Flint & Co., ship chandlers; in 1872, with W. R. and M. P. Grace, established firm of W. R. Grace & Co., and in 1876, Grace Bros. & Co., of Callao, Peru. Was appointed consul in N. Y. for the Republic of Chile, and in the absence of the charge d'affaires attended to the business of the Chilean Legation at Washington; held this position until Chile declared war against Peru in 1879, when, as his firm were the financial agents of the Peruvian Gov't, he cabled his resignation to Chile. Was the first man to light rooms with incandescent lights in N. Y. City, and in 1880 became pres. of the U. S. Electric Light Co. In 1883, married Miss E. Kate Simmons, of Troy, N. Y. In 1884 visited Brazil and arranged for the export, during succeeding years, of large quantities of rubber from the Amazon. Upon his return, was appointed Consul of Nicaragua in N. Y.; in 1885 entered firm of Flint & Co., with father and brother. During the winter of 1889-90 was a delegate from the U. S. to the first Intern'l Amer. Conf. at Washington, D. C.; in that conf. represented the U. S. on the Com. on Banking and Com. on Customs Regulations; formulated a report for unifying the customs regulations of the Amer. republics, and in that report, after consulting Secretary Blaine and Andrew Carnegie, recommended the organization of the Bur. of Amer. Republics, which was adopted by the Confer. and to which Mr. Carnegie has given $750,000. Took a prominent part in securing recognition of the new republic of Brazil by the Am. Gov't, Jan., 1890, and thereafter served, at the request of Sec. Blaine, as the confidential agent of the U. S. in negotiating the reciprocity treaty with Brazil, which was the first effected under the Aldrich Amendment of the McKinley Bill and which became the basis of treaties with other Latin-Amer. republics. In 1893, during the Mello-DaGama Rebellion in Brazil, acted for Pres. Peixotto in the purchase of vessels and munitions of war, and within 25 days had purchased, converted, armed and equipped a fleet of six vessels, of over 10,000 tons displacement, capable of discharging 4,500 pounds of dynamite simultaneously, which was of immense value to the Republic of Brazil in preventing the secession of the Northern Provinces and probable restoration of the monarchy. In 1895, during the Chino-Japanese war, purchased the cruiser "Esmeralda" from Chile and delivered her to Japan (the only incident in history of the delivery of a war vessel to a belligerent). In 1898, both before and during the Spanish-Am. war, rendered valuable services to the U. S. Gov't in the purchase of vessels and munitions of war; in several instances blocked the efforts of the Spaniards to purchase foreign war vessels and supplies, and in many ways aided the Gov't, which "patriotic action and generous co-operation" were formally acknowledged by the Sec. of the Navy. Established in the city of Manaos, 1000 miles up the Amazon River, a modern trolley road, electric light system, waterworks and the asphalt block pavement. During the Russo-Japanese war was pro-Russian, and at the outset of the war purchased for Russia all the available ordanance and projectiles in the U. S., and bought and shipped to Russia the submarine "Protector," five other submarines and ten torpedo boats; received letters of credit of Rothschild Frères of Paris for $30,000,000; had an audience with the Czar; and rendered services to Russia, both in the way of purchasing supplies and preventing the sale of the Argentine and Chilean war vessels to Japan and Turkey, in recognition of which the Czar presented him with a jewelled cup bearing the Imperial coat-of-arms. In 1907 offered the Wright aeroplane patents to both the British Secretary of State for War and the British Board of Admiralty, neither of whom at that time saw fit to accept them. During the past 25 years has devoted himself largely to the consolidation of industrials; has succeeded in establishing 21 industrials, with an outstanding capitalization of over $350,000,000, including American Chicle Co., American-Hawaiian S. S. Co., American Woolen Co., Clarksburg Fuel Co., Computing Scale Co. of America, Computing-Tabulating-Recording Co., Fairmont Coal Co., International Time Recording Co. of N. Y., Mechanical Rubber Co., Rubber Goods Mfg. Co., Sen-Sen Chiclet Co., Sloss-Sheffield S. & I. Co., Somerset Coal Co., Syracuse Street Railway Consolidation, U. S. Bobbin & Shut-

City in 1890; later became very much interested in work for boys and girls; in 1890 took a group of children to Freeville for the summer, and for five years thereafter different groups were taken each summer for an outing. In studying children, and the work being done for them, came to the conclusion the giving of children everything they needed, free, tended to increase pauperism among them. While thinking over a remedy for this, conceived the idea of starting a junior republic, modeled after the U. S. Gov't, and in 1895 put his ideas into operation. The plan worked so well and created so much interest that it was at once incorporated and placed on a permanent basis. The summer feature was abandoned and a permanent inst'n established, which is widely known as the George Junior Republic; now devoting entire time to establishments of Junior Republic System. Organizer of a new method to make school children useful to the State and Gov't as census takers and collectors of other information. Founder of the Junior Municipality, which extends a measure of self-gov't to all youth within a city between the ages of 16 and 21. Turton. Sec. and treas. Printing Press Mf'g Co., N. Y. City, 1863-69; pres. and editor-in-chief N. Y. Mercantile Journal and sub-publications, 1873-78; began printing following apothegm at the head of his several journals in 1865 as "The Science of Money Briefly Set Forth"; "In the Interchangeability (at the option of the holder) of National Paper Money with Government bonds bearing a fixed rate of interest there is a subtile principle that will regulate the movements of Finance and Commerce as accurately as the motion of the steam engine is regulated by its 'governor.' Such Paper Money Tokens will be much nearer perfect measures of value than gold or silver ever have been or ever can be. The use of gold or other merchandise as money is a barbarism unworthy of the age. — Wallace P. Groom." Later added two notable apothegms in re the Currency, as follows: "To be true money it must be interchangeable at holder's option with government bonds bearing equitable usury — i.e., interest. Such money will surely yield much greater benefits than have resulted from any humanly-devised instrumentality since the early dawn of the Christian Era.— Wallace P. Groom." "Grass will cease to grow and water cease to flow ere sound, honest, justice-promoting money can be coined (i. e., fabricated) on any basis other than its interchangeability at holder's option with government bonds bearing equitable usury — i. e., interest.— Wallace P. Groom." Sec. Nat. Convs. (promoting improvement of Country's Legal Tender) Columbus, O., 1872, and Indianapolis, Ind., 1876; chm'n com. to notify nominees of these convs. Sec. N. Y.
